

My favourite season

What's your favourite season? I like each season in its own way. I like autumn because in England the trees change colour and they look really beautiful. In winter there is Christmas with lots of Christmas parties and family gatherings. In spring there are spring flowers and blossom trees, but my favourite season is summer. Why? Well, first of all I'm a teacher and I get a really long holiday in summer, but also because in summer, even though in England summer is often cool and rainy, there are always some nice, sunny days when you can eat out in the garden and have a barbecue. I love eating in the garden and having barbecue parties. That's why I like summer best. What about you? What's your favourite season and why?
